

My lenovo B50-70 shutting down randomly

What i suggest is installing the older vursion of the intel energy manager as the new one could possibly be unstable. You can download this from intels site.

Also how long have you been using unbntu on this unit? and when it last turned of was it when opening this?

If these steps do not work or you would like more info on this issue you can call your local Lenovo support line.

Hope this help you
